TO MY WIFE.

BY AN OFFICER OF THE 23D ARMY CORPS.

Air—"Her bright smile haunts me still."

When my heart with sorrow burns,
And my eyes are dimmed with tears,
When my soul for comfort yearns,
Seeks relief for all its fears,
Gladly love to thee I come,
Pour my sorrow on thy breast
There my sad heart feels at home
And my spirit is at rest.
For thine eyes beam on me still,
And thy voice so sweet, so low,
Calls my mind from thoughts of ill,
And relieves from every woe.

When my heart is full of joy
And mine eyes are bright with smiles,
When no griefs my thoughts employ,
And I bask in love's sweet wiles,
All my hopes are fixed on thee,
In thy presence all is peace,
Near thee, I would ever be.
By thy side my troubles cease
For thine eyes beam on me still,
And thy voice so sweet, so low,
Calls my mind from thoughts of ill,
And relieves from every woe.

CONFEDERATE OFFICERS INDICTED.—HARRISBURG August 24.—The Grand Jury of Franklin county returned true bills of indictment against the following rebel officers: General McCausland, Major Gilmor and Captain Smith, for arson, and others are pending for highway robbery against Smith and Gilmor, and for robbery and murder against McCausland.

Requisitions have been issued by Governor Curtin upon Governor Boreman, of West Virginia for the rendition of McCausland, and upon Governor Peirpoint for the rendition of Smith.

We understand that the rebel General Early will also be indicted for murder, arson and highway robbery, as his order was shown in Chambersburg directing freebooters to levy a tribute, and in default of payment to burn the town.

GIRLS.

Holmes, in one of his poems, says, in parenthetical way—

——"My grandpapa
Loved girls when he yas young.

No doubt of it; for Holmes is a sensible man, and must have had a sensible grandfather. All sensible men love girls when they are young, and when they are old too. (We apply the "old" to the men, not to the girls, mind you.) Girlhood is an institution," which, as lovers of the "union," we feel bound to cherish; and as to girls, large and small, we hold that no gentleman's family "is complete without them." Of little girls, an American poet says—

"With rosy cheeks, and merry, dancing curls,
And eyes of tender light,
Oh, very beautiful are little girls,
And goodly to the sight?"

And as to large girls—"big, bouncing girls", what a pity it is that they must soon be, stately, matronly, queenly women, who are only not angels because they are not girls! who by-the-by, are not angels either, but vastly more charming than any members of the angelic host that we rember to have seen in pictures or elsewhere. Indeed they are.

THE UNION BANNER

SALISBURY, N. C., AUGUST 29, 1865.

J. J. STEWART. EDITOR

FOR THE CONVENTION.

HON. NAT. BOYDEN,
HAM. C. JONES, JR.

Election 21st. September.

Qualifications for Voters.

The qualification for voters are that a paroled man of the Confedegate army and navy, under and including the rank of Colonel, in the one and under and including the rank of Lieutenant in the other, shall be permitted to vote and all other citizens, provided they are not included in any of the fourteen excluded classes in the President's Amnesty Proclamation also, that they exhibit to the Inspectors a copy of the Amnesty oath signed by himself, and certified to by at least two justices of the Peace, and furthermore that they be citizens, as required by the laws inforce preceeding May 20th, 1861, except that the payment of a poll tax shall not be required.

THE ELECTION FOR THE CONVENTION.

The announcement of our ticket for the Convention, Hon. Nat. Boyden and Ham. C. Jones, Jr., on yesterday, created quite an excitement in the city. The campaign has already commenced and the partisans and friends of the various parties named, are loud in their advocacy of their respective favorites. So far as we are concerned, we are fully satisfied that a majority of the citizens of Rowan will approve of our selection by sending as their delegates, the candidates whose names are at our editorial head. The people should recollect two things important to know. The first is, that the election takes place on the 21st September next, and to vote they must present to the Inspectors of Elections the amnesty oath signed by themselves and witnessed by at least two Magistrates. [illegible] time, by calling at the store of A. J. Mock, in Murphy's brick building. The form of this oath is as follows:

I ——— of ——— county State of North Carolina, do solemnly swear or affirm, in presence of Almighty God, that I will henceforth faithfully support, protect and defend the constitution of the United States, and the Union of the States thereunder; and that I will, in like manner, abide by and faithfully support all laws and proclamations which have been made during the existing rebelliou, with reference to the emancipation of slaves. So help me God.

Sworn and subscribed to, this ——— day of ——— A. D. 1865—before

J. P.

It is hereby certified that the above is a true copy of the original oath taken and subscribed by ———

——— J. P.
——— J. P.

It is the duty of every good citizen to take this oath, and to vote at the coming election. Every one can take it and exercise the right of suffrage, except those who are excepted by the President's Amnesty Proclamation. Let every one then forgetting the past with all its bitter animosities, come forward to the support of those men who have at heart the interests of the country and the happiness of the people.

The Mississippi Convention.

The State Convention of Mississippi, in session at Jackson, in that State, have done all that could be expected of them and have met their changed relations and the complexities of their present situation with proper spirit. The following constitutional amendment regarding slavery was adopted by them by a vote of eighty-six to eleven:

"The institution of slavery having been destroyed in the State of Mississippi, neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, otherwise than for the punishment of crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall hereafter exist in this State; and the Legislature at its next session, and thereafter as the public welfare may require, shall provide by law for the protection and security of the persons and property of the freedmen of the State, and guard them and the State against any evil that may arise from their sudden emancipation."

This, we suppose, will be satisfactory, and, we hope, to prevent useless delay in their re-admission, that all the South-States will be equally as prompt in their action on the subject.

They also passed an ordinance declaring null and void the ordinance of secession, and repealing all other ordinances of the secession convention excepting that relating to revenue. The members of the convention, at an informal meeting, acquiesced in a petition to President Johnson requesting him to pardon Jeff. Davis and Gen. Clark, the rebel ex-Governor of their State.

Our Candidates.

We feel pretty sure that the gentlemen whom we have selected will prove the successful candidates in the ensuing election; but we learn that there are quite a number of gentlemen panting for the race, and we insist that they shall have a fair showing. Let all come out who desire to do so;—the people will choose between them. We would have no Solon crowded out of the Convention. Come out, say we, all ye that hunger and thirst for immortality, or high positions, in the councils of the nation—ventilate your views before the people, and let them thoroughly understand your peculiar ideas on the great political questions of the day:—There is no telling how well you may run or how badly you will be beaten.

Our Weekly.

Our Weekly made its second appearance yesterday, and was received with many commendations from all who saw it. We furnish the Weekly at $3 per year, and all of our friends in the counties should send at once for it. The mails in a few days will be regular.

Trial Of Wirz.

The court martial convened to try Henry Wirz, keeper of the Andersonville rebel prison pen, met on the 23d, when Judge Advocate Chipman read a War Department order dissolving the former commission in the case, but convening a new one composed of the same members.—These being sworn in, Wirz was again arraigned, and the charges and specifications, in the main the same as the previous ones, were read. They omit, however, the names of General Lee, rebel War Secretary Seddon and rebel Commisary of Subsistence Northrop, who were at first indicted with Wirz, but retain the charges of conspiracy, murder, cruel punishment and barbarity. The two gentlemen who acted as the prisoner's counsel objected to these proceedings, and asked for a delay to give time to prepare the proper defence. Subsequently, however, both of them, after an extended conference with Judge Advocate Chipman, abandoned the case, and left the court room and the latter gentleman was appointed by the President of the commission to defend the accused. The court then adjourned till noon to-day.

Wirz was put upon his trial on the 24th, with only one counsel. He plead not guilty and moved a postponement to get additional counsel. The pleas entered by his counsel were overruled and the case proceeded.

THE SARATOGA MATRIMONIAL MARKET.—A Saratoga correspondent says: So far as heard from the matrimonial market stands thus: Old stock married off, none; old stock hopeful of success, 1; widows of first class married or soon will be, 10; widows of second class married or soon will be, 15; young ladies married, 17; engaged and day fixed for wedding, 95; betrothed and gone to get consent of pater-familias, 67; still billing and cooing, 89; matches broken up by stern parents, 11; come together again 3—but they have to dodge parents; in love but not reciprocated, 37½; no one to love, 49; elopements, 1; private marriages, 2.

There were many applications from persons who wished to fill the office of executioner at the hanging of Dr. Pritchard, at Glasgow, some volunteering to pay all their own expenpenses.

The toad which was found imbedded in a block of lime-stone in Hartlepool, England, and which is computed to be 6,000 years old, expired last month. The animal has been on exhibition for a number of years.

General Grant will soon have to discontinue shaking hands. While stopping at Elgin, on his way from Chicago to Galena, last week, a person approached in a plain farmer's garb, seized the General by the hand, and tried to jerk him from the platform, at the same time twisting his arm with great violence. The rascal received a good beating from Col. Babcock for his pains.

The Smithsonian grounds in Washington have earned an exceedingly bad reputation by reason of the fact that theives and robbers have made it a resort, and, after nightfall, lie in wait for pedestrians, and rob them of watches, money, etc. The scoundrels travel in gangs, and have regular signs and signals, and when one discovers an individual it is deemed advisable to rob, his companions are immediately signaled.

Jeff. Davis and the Starvation Of Union Soldiers.

The letter of the new American correspondent of the London Times, avowing that the evidence respecting the starvation of Union soldiers in rebel prisons is irresistible, has caused great excitement among the rebel sympathizers in England.

Lieutenant Colonel Freemantle, of the Coldstream Guards, writes as follows to the Times of the 8th inst.:—

[illegible] respondent, writing from Saratoga, states that public feeling in the North still craves for vengeance on Mr. Davis, in consequence of the "incredible and infamous treatment which Northern captured soldiers received in Southern prisons."

As I travelled throughout the entire Southern States during the heighth of the war, I had many opportunities of seeing Northern prisoners under a variety of circumstances. I always observed they were treated with generosity and humanity, and not with barbarity.

I can quite believe that they must have suffered dreadfully, and been often almost starved, at Andersonville—hardships which they had to endure in common with confederate soldiers, women, and children in many parts of the South; the superior numbers and resources of the enemy at the latter period of the war having enabled him to lay waste the crops and destroy the means of sustenance, as well as railway communication. The cruelty of keeping vast numbers of men confined in places where they could only be fed with much difficulty must remain with Mr. Lincoln, and not with Mr. Davis; for it is notorious that all objections to exchange prisoners came from the North, not from the South. Mr. Davis would always have been delighted to exchange the fifteen thousand starving federals at Andersonville for a similar number of confederates who were at the same time rotting at Johnson Island.

With regard to the starvation and cruelty alleged to have gone on at the Libby Prison, you, Sir, had fortunately a correspondent at Richmond during nearly the whole war. The gentlemen has often been able, after personal inspection of the Libby Prison, to expose in your own columns such odious calumnies.

I have seen the disgusting sensational photographs of federal prisoners to which your correspondent alludes. Copies of them were sent to me and to many other persons unsolicited—a novel and horrid manner of raising public feeling against the South. As well might the emaciated, naked bodies of dying guardsmen be photographed in London, and then published as examples of the manner in which England treats her soldiers.

With the deepest regret I see for the first time a widely honored name mixed up with these allegations. If any respectable Northerner really believes Gener. l Lee capable of countenancing cruelty to the unfortunate, I wish he could have overheard the manner in which that officer soon after the battle of Gettysburg lamented to me the necessity he was under of marching several thousand federal prisoners to Richmond. He deeply regretted that no exchange could be effected, as he deplored the hardships they would have to encounter on the journey at that particular time.

May I ask, in justice to Mr. Davis, that you will insert this letter, as he is now placed in a position peculiarly unfair, for, porbably, his firmness and determination alone prevented the Confederate government from listening to the clamors for retaliation, "black flag," &c., which often poured into Richmond from different parts of the South.

LOCAL.

An Excitement.

There has been some excitement in the city for the past few days, over a copy of the Cincinnati Gazette, containing matter most foully slanderous of many of the best and highest respected citizens here. It is probable that the Mayor and Commissioners will take some official notice of its contents. If the writer is an officer or soldier of the army, complaints will be made to proper authorities. If a citizen he will be punished under the law for libel.

Protracted Meeting.

Thyatira Church has held a protracted meeting for several days and it will continue for several days longer. We have not been able to attend, but we learn that large numbers are daily present and that the groves of Thyatira are vocal with the hymns of praise and thanksgiving.

Charity.

We have started at this office a subscription for two returning paroled soldiers, prostrate by disease and unable to help themselves. They are anxious to proceed to their homes in Alabama, but they have not the means and not strength enough to earn anything. These are cases that appeal warmly to the sympathies of the people and we earnestly hope that those who are able will call at this office and subscribe, no matter how little, to this worthy charity.

The Clerks and Sheriffs of the respective counties will proceed at once to assemble the Justices of the Peace, a majority of whom will select from their number not less than six nor more than eighteen Justices, men of intelligence, discretion firmness, and approved loyalty, whose duty it shall be to administer to those who may be entitled to receive it, the oath contained in the President's Amnesty Proclamation of May 29th, 1865, under such instruction as may be prescribed in this Proclamation. The Justices shall, at the same time, appoint Inspectors of the elections at the various precincts in their respective counties, in accordance with the law in relation there to, Chapter 52, Revised Code of North Carolina. The election for members of the Convention shall be conducted in the same manner as elections for members of the House of Commons, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 52, Revised Code, so far as said provisions may be applicable; and the officers appointed to hold said elections, and to make returns thereof, shall be liable to the same penalties for failure to act, or for neglect of duty, as are prescribed in Chapter 52 Revised Code.

No person will be allowed to vote who is not a voter qualified as prescribed by the Constitution and laws of the State, in force immediately before the 20th day of May, 1861; except that the payment of a poll tax shall not be required.

All paroled soldiers of the army and navy of the pretended Confederate States, or of this State, and all paroled officers of the army and navy of the pretended Confederate States, or of this State, under and including the rank of Colonel, if of the army, and under and including the rank of Lieutenant, if of the navy, will be allowed to vote, provided they are not included in any of the fourteen excluded classes of the President's Amnesty Proclamation; and, provided further, that they are citizens of the State in accordance with the terms prescribed in the preceding paragraph.

No person will be allowed to vote who does not exhibit to the inspectors a copy of the Amnesty Oath, as contained in the President's Proclamation of May 29, 1865, and signed by himself and certified by at least two Justices of the Peace.

Printed copies of the Amnesty Oath will be furnished to the Clerks, who will distribute them to the Justices appointed to administer the oath. The Justices will deliver the certified copy to the person taking the oath, and retain the original to be transmitted to this office.

Justices of the peace are authorized to administer the Amnesty Ooath to persons who may desire to apply to the President for pardon.

The Sheriffs of the respective counties shall furnish, as soon as practicable, certificates of election to those persons who may have received the highest number of votes as members of the Convention; and the Sheriffs shall also immediately send to the office of the Secretary of State, Raleigh, a statement of the vote in their respective counties for the members aforesaid, and also a statement of the said vote, sealed up, directed to the President of the Convention, Raleigh, to be laid before the Convention.

The members of the Convention, thus chosen, will assemble in the city of Raleigh, on Monday, the second day of October, 1865.

The attention of Justices appointed to administer the Amnesty Ooath, is especially directed to the following fourteen excluded classes of the President's Amnesty Proclamation of May 29th, 1865:

"First—All who are, or shall have been pretended civil or diplomatic officers, or otherwise, domestic or foreign agents of the pretended Confederate government.

Second—All who left judicial stations under the United States to aid the rebellion.

Third—All who have been military or naval officers of said pretended Confederate government, above the rank of Colonel in the army or Lieutenant in the navy.

Fourth—All who left seats in the Congress of the United States to aid the rebellion.

Fifth—All who resigned or tendered resignations of their commissions in the army or navy of the United States to evade duty in resisting the rebellion.

Sixth—All who have engaged in any way in the treating otherwise than lawfully as prisoners of war, persons found in the United States service, as officers, soldiers, seamen, or in other capacities.

Seventh—All persons who have been or are absentees from the United States for the purpose of aiding the rebellion.

Eighth—All military and naval officers in the rebel service who were educated by the government in the Military Academy at West Point, or the United States Naval Academy.

Ninth—All persons who held the pretended offices of Governors of States in insurrection against the United States.

Tenth—All persons who left their homes within the jurisdiction and protection of the United States and passed beyond the federal military lines into the so-called Confederate States for the purpose of aiding the rebellion.

Eleventh—All persons who have been engaged in the destruction of the commerce of the United States upon the high-seas, and persons who have made raids into the United States from Canada, or been engaged in destroying the commerce of the United States upon the lakes and rivers that separate the British provinces from the United States.

Twelfth—All persons who, at the time when they seek to obtain the benefits hereof by taking the oath herein prescribed, are in military, naval or civil confinement or custody, or under bonds of the civil, military or naval authorities or agents of the United States, as prisoners of war or persons detained for offences of any kind either before or after conviction.

Thirteenth—All persons who have voluntarily participated in said rebellion, and the estimated value of whose taxable property is over twenty thousand dollars.

Fourteenth—All persons who have taken the oath of amnesty as prescribed in the President's proclamation of December eighth, A. D., one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, or an oath of allegiance to the Government of the United States since the date of said proclamation, and who have not heretofore kept and maintained the same inviolate: PROVIDED, That special application may be made to the president for pardon by any person belonging to the excepted classes, and such clemency will be liberally extended as may be consistent with the facts of the case and the peace and dignity of the United States.

Under the first exception are included all persons who have been civil or diplomatic officers or agents of the pretended Confederate government, either within or without the territorial limits of the United States.

Under the seventh exception are included all officers, agents or private citizens who have been absent from the United States for the purpose of aiding the rebellion.

Under the thirteenth exception are included all who, during the rebellion, have held any office or agency under the State or pretended Confederate Government; or have in any way voluntarily joined in the rebellion, as for example, by entering or marching with armed forces hostile to the United States; by sending or furnishing money, provisions, or arms, to persons engaged in the rebellion, save in cases where money or provisions were furnished from the promptings of charity or humanity; by acting with assemblages of persons, whether organized or unorganized, hostile to the United States; or in any other way giving voluntary aid, assistance or encouragement to the rebellion; and whose taxable property on the 29th day of May, 1865, exceeded in value the sum of twenty thousand dollars.

The other exceptions are so plain as not to require explanation.

No certificate will be granted by the Justices to any person who is included within any of the fourteen excluded classes, unless on exhibition by the party of his pardon for his offence from the President.

The Justices appointed to administer the amnesty oath, and to furhish certificates of the same which shall be evidence of loyalty, are especially instructed to be vigilant and faithful.—While it will not be their duty to attempt to pry into the hearts and consciences of men, they will nevertheless admonish those who may apply to take the oath, that it must be taken and subscribed in good faith, with an honest intention on their part to keep it without secret purpose or mental reservation upon any occasion or at any time to commit any act in violation of said oath; and they will warn them that if the oath is not thus taken and kept, the pardon offered them by the President will be void, and they will remain subject to trial under the law for perjury and treason.

The Justices, Clerks and Sheriffs, whose duty it is to provide for administering the oath and to conduct the elections, are enjoined to use every practicable means to enable every citizen to take the oath who may desire and be entitled to do so. And the Inspectors are enjoined to inspect and examine fairly and truly to decide in every case in accordance with the law, and with the instructions they have received from this office, and to make prompt and correct returns of the number of votes and for whom cast, at their respective precincts.

Done at our city of Raleigh, the 8th day of August, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five, and in the year of the independence of the United States the eighty-ninth.

WILLIAM W. HOLDEN.
PROVISIONAL GOVERNOR.

By the Governor:
LEWIS HANES, Private Secretary.

NEW SKIRT FOR 1865

The Great Invention of the Age in

HOOP SKIRTS.

J. W. BRADLEY'S NEW PATENT DUPLEX ELLIPTIC, (OR DOUBLE) SPRING SKIRT. This invention consists of Duplex (or two) Elliptic Pure Refined Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable Spring ever used. They seldom bend or break, like the Single Springs, and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful shape more than twice as long as any single spring skirt that ever has or can be made.

The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded assemblies, operas, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, arm chairs, for promenade and house dress, as the skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a silk or muslin dress.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.

The Hoops are covered with 2 ply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the single yarn covering which is used on all single steel hoop skirts. The three bottom rods on every skirt are also Double Steel, and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when dragging down stairs, stone steps, &c., &c., which they are constantly subject to when in use.

All are made of the new and elegant corded tapes, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect shape possible, and are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable comfortable and economical skirt ever made.
